2008 Social Investment Council Members

The Social Investment Council is a group of highly talented and socially conscious rising leaders from the private sector who support and spread the word of Echoing Green's work both formally through fundraising events and informally to their peers.

Kristin Resnansky (Co-Chair) works as a managing director at Chilton Investment Company, where she focuses on public equity investing. She has worked with a variety of nonprofit organizations in the past. She holds an MBA from Stanford University's Graduate School of Business where she earned the Certificate in Public Management with an emphasis on social entrepreneurship, and a BA in economics and French from the University of Virginia. Kristin grew up in Connecticut and has traveled extensively in Africa, Europe, and South America.

Marc L. Saiontz (Co-Chair) is currently a Managing Director at American Securities Capital Partners (ASCP). He joined ASCP in December 1996 from Morgan Stanley Capital Partners, where he focused on private equity investments. He has worked with a variety of nonprofits in the past. He holds an MBA from Stanford Business School and a BS magna cum laude in economics from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business. Marc is currently a director of NEP Broadcasting, LLC, PDM Bridge, LLC, and Weasler Engineering, Inc.

Jalak Jobanputra (Vice Chair, Events) is Senior Vice President at the New York City Investment Fund and manages the Fund's investments in the information technology, media and cleantech sectors. Prior to joining the Fund, Jalak was a Principal at New Venture Partners, a $300M early stage venture fund where she was a director of Procelerate Technologies and Real Time Content. Previously, Ms. Jobanputra worked at Intel Capital where she led and managed strategic investments in software, digital media and services companies. Prior to receiving her MBA, Jalak worked as a Product Manager at an online financial services start-up, and as a media and tech investment banker at Lehman Brothers and Broadview Associates in NYC and London. She has also consulted for the United Nations Development Programme in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania as well as several education nonprofits, including The Big Picture School (Providence, RI), Jobs for the Future (Boston), and the Fenway Institute (Boston). Jalak holds an MBA from the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University, a BS in Economics magna cum laude from the Wharton School, and a BA in Communications magna cum laude from the Annenberg School at the University of Pennsylvania. She is currently a Trustee of the Achievement First Bushwick Charter School in Brooklyn and a member of Echoing Green's junior board.

Tushar Aggarwal is an associate at General Atlantic LLC, a global growth equity firm, where he focuses on investments in the Communications and Technology sector. Prior to joining General Atlantic, Tushar was a member of the Global Mergers and Acquisitions division of Lehman Brothers in New York, focusing on companies in the Media and Telecom sectors. In his capacity there, Tushar worked on a wide range of financial, strategic and cross-border advisory transactions and several debt and equity financings. Prior to that, Tushar was with Goldman Sachs in New York within Mortgage Backed Securities. Tushar graduated magna cum laude from Stony Brook University with a BE in electrical engineering.

Eli Aheto works as an analyst at Anchorage Capital Advisors, where he focuses on public and private debt and equity investments in the Energy & Power, Oil & Gas and Healthcare sectors. Previously, Eli worked at General Atlantic, LLC and Goldman Sachs. Eli received an MBA from Harvard Business School and an AB degree in economics from Harvard College. Eli was born and raised in New York.

Fraz Ahmed is an analyst at Lazard Frères & Co. in the Mergers & Acquisitions Group. Prior to joining Lazard, he was with GE Commercial Finance in their Financial Management Program (FMP). Fraz holds a BS in Electrical Engineering and Economics from Northwestern University. He was born in Houston, raised in the Middle East and Pakistan and now lives in New York City.

Darshan K. Bachhawat is currently at Transamerican Auto Parts in Los Angeles. Prior, he was an associate of BSMB, a private equity firm in New York. Previous to joining BSMB, he was a financial analyst in Bear Stearns' Acquisition Finance Group. Darshan holds a BS in Economics, magna cum laude, from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business. He is from Charleston, West Virginia.

Matthew Barbas is currently a Senior Analyst on the private equity team at Audax Group in Boston. Prior, he was a consultant at Mercer Oliver Wyman, where he focused on advising management of financial services companies. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of openhousenewyork, an architecture and design nonprofit. He also volunteers as a counselor for CCFA's Camp Oasis. Matthew holds a BS from Northwestern with majors in history and economics.

Claude Burton is an associate at New Mountain Capital, where he evaluates growth investment opportunities across a variety of industries and helps portfolio company management teams create value and build their businesses. He previously worked in the Mergers and Acquisitions Group at JPMorgan, where he helped evaluate and execute a number of strategic transactions. Claude graduated magna cum laude from Duke University, with a B.S. in Economics.

Christine P. Chan is currently an Investment Officer and Assistant Vice President at JPMorgan Chase, where she focuses on double-bottom line private equity and venture capital fund investments. Previously, she worked at AIF Capital, an emerging markets private equity fund based in Hong Kong and was an Associate at Cohen & Steers Capital Advisors and Mergers & Acquisitions Analyst at Lazard in New York. Christine graduated from the University of California at Berkeley with Bachelor of Arts degrees in Economics and Asian Studies, studied abroad at the Guanghua School of Management, Beijing University, and graduated with an MBA in Finance and Entrepreneurial Management at the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania. Christine grew up in San Francisco and is currently based in New York.

Kathryn Corro is currently a Principal at Rockpoint Group, L.L.C. She oversees Rockpoint's capital raising and new business development activities, as well as investor relations. Prior to Rockpoint, Kathryn focused on acquisitions, asset management and investor relations at Westbrook Partners, L.L.C. Prior to Westbrook Partners, Kathryn worked as a financial analyst at Banc of America Securities. Kathryn received a B.A. in Economics from Wellesley College.

Karen Duffin manages the executive communications team for Cisco Systems' Chairman and CEO, John Chambers. In this position, she travels with / manages Chambers' communications and involvement in events worldwide, ranging from business keynotes and company activities to humanitarian initiatives and international events like the World Economic Forum. Prior to Cisco, Karen worked for 5 years at Bite Communications, a San Francisco PR firm, specializing in corporate / crisis communications and media relations. She helped launch Bite's pro bono practice and founded a small local activism group called Bite Size Revolutions. Karen graduated with University Honors from Brigham Young University in Public Relations and was raised in Katy, Texas.

Brian Dunlap is an Associate at General Atlantic, where he focuses on global growth equity investments in the Financial Services sector. He joined General Atlantic's New York office in 2008. Prior to joining GA, Brian was an investment banking analyst in Morgan Stanley's Financial Sponsors Group, where he worked with private equity clients on structuring leveraged buyouts, recapitalizations and portfolio monetizations across various sectors. Brian graduated from Stanford University in 2006, with a B.A. in Public Policy with a concentration in Social Entrepreneurship, and an M.A. in International Policy Studies with a concentration in International Political Economy.

Roni Elchahal is an associate at General Atlantic, a global growth equity investment firm, where he focuses on investments in the Media & Consumer sector. Prior to joining General Atlantic, Roni was a senior associate at the Boston Consulting Group, where he worked with clients in the healthcare and consumer sectors. Roni graduated summa cum laude from the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania, where he concentrated in finance and was a Joseph Wharton scholar, and summa cum laude from the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania, where he majored in history. He grew up in Tampa, Florida and lives in New York City.

Charlotte Evans is currently at Capital Research Company, in San Francisco. Prior, she was an associate at Morgan Stanley in the equity research division, where she was responsible for the analysis and investment recommendation of securities in the retail sector. Previously, Charlotte worked in corporate finance at UBS Investment Bank. She graduated cum laude from Columbia University with a BA in comparative literature. Born in New York, Charlotte has lived in the Middle East and worked in London and Paris.

Jarrod R. Fong is a portfolio manager in the Private Equity Group at JP Morgan Asset Management. He is responsible for screening primary and secondary opportunities of venture capital and leveraged buyout funds. He also leads direct investments into private companies, as well as monitors investments in funds and companies. Jarrod serves as an observer or sits on the advisory board of ten private equity firms and three private companies. He previously worked in private equity at AT&T Investment Management Corp., and Dillon Read. Jarrod is a graduate of the University of California, Los Angeles, and earned his MBA from the University of Chicago. In addition, he serves on the Board of Directors of the Coalition for Asian Americans Children and Families and has been involved in other nonprofit organizations.

Jason Gilbert is Founder and COO/CFO of LifeLab Solutions Inc. Formerly, he was an investor at General Atlantic (a $16B Private Equity firm focused on global growth investments), where he focused on financial strategy for GA's portfolio companies and new investments. He first joined GA's Greenwich office in 2006 evaluating investment opportunities in various technology enabled verticals, including semiconductors, alternative energy, and financial services. Prior to joining General Atlantic, Jason was an investment banker at Berkery, Noyes & Co., where he serviced large and mid-sized information providers in the U.S. and international markets with strategic mergers & acquisitions, corporate and asset divestitures, strategic research, and valuations. Jason is a Certified Public Accountant with a B.A. in Political Science from the University of Michigan and an M.S. in Accounting from the George Washington University School of Business.

Aaron Goldman is a Vice President at General Atlantic, a global growth equity firm, where he focuses on investments in the Media & Consumer Sector. Prior to joining General Atlantic, Aaron spent five years with the venture capital arm of Fremont Group in San Francisco, where he focused on e-business, communications and medical diagnostics. While at Fremont Group, he served as President and CFO of a portfolio company and as a board director and board observer for a number of companies and organizations. Before joining Fremont Group, he was an analyst in Donaldson, Lufkin and Jenrette's Leveraged Finance Group. Aaron received his BS in Economics with a concentration in Finance, magna cum laude, from The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania. He received his MBA from Harvard Business School where he graduated with highest distinction and was a Baker Scholar.

Ananda Grant worked as a Senior Manager at American Express in OPEN, the Small Business group and in the Cardless Payments group. Prior to American Express, she worked in the Marketing and Communications group at Children's Television Workshop, producers of Sesame Street. She currently serves on the board of CEC ArtsLink, an international arts service organization. She holds a BA in Communication Studies from SUNY New Paltz and an MBA from NYU's Stern School of Business. Ananda grew up in New York and enjoys traveling in her free time.

Sidharth Haksar is an analyst at Pine Cobble Capital LLC. He most recently worked at General Atlantic LLC, where he focused on the firm's investments in the Business Services and Consumer, Media, and Marketing sectors. Prior to joining General Atlantic, Sidharth was an analyst in the Structured Finance practice at Citigroup Global Markets, where he focused on structuring lease transactions for clients across various verticals. Prior to joining Citigroup Global Markets, he was a financial analyst with Citibank Credit Cards in the Global Consumer Group division. Sidharth is a former national finalist for the Rhodes scholarship. Sidharth graduated from Whittier College with a BA in economics and mathematics. He also spent time studying economics at the London School of Economics. As a volunteer at the Whittier Area Parents' Association for the Developmentally Handicapped, Sidharth worked closely with children suffering from autism.

Pavan D. Hardasani is an associate of BSMB, a New York based private equity firm. Prior to joining BSMB, he was a financial analyst at Lazard Frères & Co. in the Mergers & Acquisitions Group. Pavan holds a BBA in finance and accounting, with distinction, from the University of Michigan. He was born in New Jersey, raised in Hong Kong and now lives in New York City.

Ryan Harrison is an associate at KPS Special Situation Funds, a New York based private equity firm. In this role, Ryan focuses on developing and implementing turnaround plans for distressed businesses. Previously, he worked as an analyst in the Investment Banking Division of Credit Suisse First Boston. Ryan graduated with distinction with a BA in business administration from the Richard Ivey School of Business at The University of Western Ontario. Ryan was born and raised in Windsor, Canada.

Lisa Hersch works with McKinsey & Company, where she serves clients in telecom, media, and consumer products both in the U.S. and overseas. She holds an MBA from Stanford University's Graduate School of Business, and an MA in education from Stanford University School of Education and a Bachelor of Commerce (first class honors) from the University of New South Wales. Lisa has worked as a strategic advisor for a number of nonprofit organizations including PBS, Arcandina (Ecuador-based children's TV production company), Balkanu's Cape York Digital Network in Australia, and MedTech Outreach Australia. She was also a mentor with the I Have A Dream program. Lisa was born in Cape Town, South Africa, grew up in Sydney, Australia, and now lives in New York City. She travels extensively for work and pleasure.

Jerome Hershey is a senior associate at Technology Crossover Ventures, a private equity firm in New York. Previously, he worked at Spectrum Equity Investors, and JPMorgan in the Technology and Media Investment Banking Group. He received a BS in economics from The Wharton School at The University of Pennsylvania with a dual concentration in operations management and marketing. Jerome enjoys guitar, golf, and warm weather.

David G.A. Holmes is a portfolio analyst at Epic Asset Management, focusing on distressed debt and other special situations. Previously, he held various positions at Prism Capital, Marathon Asset Management, and Smith Barney. He is a board member and treasurer of the FM Lienhard Foundation, and is involved with several social-philanthropic efforts. David holds a BA in economics from Connecticut College and an MBA from Columbia Business School. David was raised in New York and most recently lived in rural Maine.

Irene Hong is a senior associate at Lexington Partners where she is primarily responsible for the analysis of secondary purchases of buyout, mezzanine and venture private equity partnership interests. Prior to joining Lexington Partners, Irene worked in the Private Equity Division at Lehman Brothers in its Merchant Banking Group. She holds a BS from Georgetown University with a major in finance and a minor in English. Irene was born and raised in Chicago.

Michael Houy is an associate at KPS Special Situation Funds, a New York based private equity firm. In this role, Mike focuses on developing and implementing turnaround plans for distressed and underperforming businesses. Prior to joining KPS, Mike was an Associate at Sun Capital Partners, Inc. in their Private Equity group. Prior to Sun Capital, Mike was an Analyst in the Leverage Finance Group at J.P. Morgan Securities Inc. Mike graduated magna cum laude from the University of Massachusetts' Isenberg School of Management with a BS in Finance and from the Commonwealth Honors College with departmental honors. Mike was raised in Newton, Massachusetts.

Rohin Jain is a senior associate at Trimaran Capital Partners–a New York based private equity firm with over $6 billion in assets under management. At Trimaran, Rohin is responsible for sourcing, structuring, and executing private equity transactions across a wide spectrum of industries. Rohin serves as an observer on the Board of Directors of Charlie Brown's Steak House, Educational Services of America, Norcraft Companies, and Urban Brands. Prior to Trimaran, he worked as a Mergers & Acquisitions analyst at UBS Investment Bank, where he focused on the industrial, healthcare, media and consumer/retail sectors. Rohin received a BS and an MBA from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business, both with high distinction.

Nijhad Jamal is an analyst at Centerview Partners, a New York based financial advisory firm, where he focuses primarily on mergers and acquisitions in the consumer and retail sectors. Previously, Nijhad worked in corporate finance at UBS Investment Bank. He graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a BS in management science. Born in New York and raised in London, Nijhad has also studied and worked in Paris and Madrid.

Michael Jones is a Director at MESA, a leading advisory firm specializing in media industry transactions. Prior to MESA, Michael was EVP & CFO of Lambert Television, an investment, management and holding company with concentrations in media and technology. He is a Board member of the Los Angeles Public Library, where he serves as a vice president on the library's executive committee and is the founder of the library's junior council. Michael is also involved with the American Natural History Museum. He graduated with honors from Brown University with degrees in business economics and organizational behavior & management, and also holds an MBA from Columbia University.

Lisa Katz is the marketing director for Juicy Couture Retail, where she creates brand awareness, forms strategic partnerships and leads the marketing efforts for all new store openings. Previously, Lisa was a marketing consultant for various fashion brands including J.Crew, Give, Skip Hop and IISLI. Prior to that, Lisa worked for Saks Fifth Avenue in New York and did marketing for Banana Republic in San Francisco. She also devotes time to New York Cares and Free Arts New York. She graduated from the University of California, Los Angeles with a degree in psychology and a Spanish literature minor. Lisa was born and raised in Sacramento, California, and loves international travel.

Janice Kim is an associate in the private equity group at Marathon Asset Management. Previously, Janice worked at Banc of America Securities, in the financial sponsors and media & telecommunications groups. She received her BA from the University of California, Berkeley.

Jin-Young Kim is an associate at General Atlantic, a global growth equity firm, where she focuses on investments in the Enterprise sector. She joined General Atlantic's New York office in 2007. Prior to joining General Atlantic, Jin-Young worked at Morgan Stanley in its Investment Banking Technology Group based in New York. Jin-Young is currently involved with Minds Matter, a mentoring and tutoring organization that brings high-achieving and motivated high school students from low-income families together with dedicated mentors. Jin-Young received her B.A. in English from Amherst College.

Taena Kim currently works at Scoggin Capital. Prior, she was an analyst in the Principal Investment Area at Goldman Sachs where she focused on leveraged buyout opportunities. Previous to that, she worked as an analyst in the Healthcare Investment Banking Group at Banc of America Securities. Taena graduated with a BS from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill with a major in business administration and a minor in history.

Nikhil Kirtane is an investment analyst at Frontier Ridge Capital, a deep-value investment firm, where he focuses on distressed and special situations investing. He was previously at H.I.G. Capital, a leading global private equity firm with over $4 billion of equity capital under management, where he focused on leveraged buyouts, equity, and debt investments in distressed and lower middle-market companies. He was also a member of the Investment Banking / Leveraged Finance group at Deutsche Bank in New York, where he focused on acquisition and exit financings. Nikhil holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Johns Hopkins University, where he graduated with Honors and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Robert Kopera is an associate at Caxton-Iseman Capital, a private equity firm. Robert is also the co-program coordinator of the Washington, D.C. branch of StreetWise Partners. Previously, he worked as an associate at Quad-C Management and as an analyst at Jefferies & Company. Robert holds a BS in computer engineering from Virginia Tech.

Ashish Lal is a senior associate at Charlesbank Capital Partners, the private equity spin-out from Harvard Management Company. He has been with Charlesbank since 2002. Prior to Charlesbank, Ashish was with LEK Consulting in Chicago, London and Tokyo. He has been involved with non-profits such as Junior Achievement, Jobs for Youth and StreetwisePartners over the past decade. Ashish holds a BA from Northwestern University and an MBA from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business.

Miles Lasater is founder and COO of Higher One, a financial services company focused on higher education. He started the Yale Entrepreneurial Society which oversees Yale's annual business plan competition (which has always included a social entrepreneurship category). Miles lives in New Haven and organizes events that turn residents into citizens, like Cluefest (the annual city-wide scavenger hunt). He serves on the Port Authority of New Haven, Yale's Advisory Committee on Investor Responsibility. Miles holds a BA in computer science from Yale.

Scottye Lindsey is a director at Deutsche Bank in the Leveraged Loan Portfolio group, responsible for financial monitoring and relationship management of consumer and homebuilding companies. Prior to joining Deutsche Bank in 1998, he was an associate in Corporate Investments at Metropolitan Life. Scottye has an MBA from Cornell University and a BA from Brown University in international relations and economics.

Eric Liu is an associate at Warburg Pincus, a New York-based private equity firm, where he focuses on healthcare investments. He holds an MBA from the Stanford Graduate School of Business, where he was Co-Chair of the Conference on Entrepreneurship and Co-Chair of the Alumni Committee. He also holds an AB in applied mathematics from Harvard University. Prior to joining Warburg Pincus, he worked in early-stage venture capital at Draper Fisher Jurvetson in California and in private equity at The Blackstone Group in New York. He grew up in Connecticut and has traveled extensively throughout all the continents except Antarctica.

Joon Ma is the Vice President of Customer Experience and Performance Management at Louis Vuitton. Previously, she has held positions as Director of Strategy and Business Development at Victoria's Secret Beauty and Project Leader at The Boston Consulting Group, where she advised clients on key strategic and operational issues. She holds an MBA from Harvard Business School where she co-managed the Harbus Foundation, a student-run foundation providing grants and engaging in venture philanthropy to support local education, literacy and journalism projects. Joon also holds a BA in anthropology from Columbia University and is a former Fulbright Scholar. She grew up in New York/New Jersey and has worked or studied in the UK, France, Italy, Korea, and Morocco.

Jason Morimoto is an associate at Citigroup Global Markets in the Technology Group. He previously worked as an analyst for Citigroup in the Mergers and Acquisitions Group and the Latin America Group. Prior to that, Jason worked at Morgan Stanley in the Convertible Products Group. He graduated Phi Beta Kappa with a BS in business administration from the University of California, Berkeley. Jason enjoys traveling and learning foreign languages. He has worked or studied in Uruguay, Mexico, Brazil, Italy, Spain, Germany, and Hong Kong. He is currently based in Palo Alto, California.

Alexandra Moser is an analyst at Morgan Stanley in the Private Wealth Management group, specializing in managing the assets of high net-worth individuals, families, & foundations. Alex recently graduated from Yale University with a BA in Biology. Alex is a mentor with Student Sponsor Partners in New York and is also a member of the Junior Committees of Student Sponsor Partners and the Grosvenor Neighborhood House YMCA. Alex is originally from the San Francisco Bay Area but now resides in New York City. She enjoys travel, rowing and tennis.

Christopher Orski is an Associate at Diamond Castle Holdings, a New York private equity firm. Previously, Christopher worked in the Mergers & Acquisitions Group at JPMorgan Investment Bank. He graduated from the University of Virginia with a B.S. in Commerce with a concentration in Finance. He is from Potomac, Maryland.

Jay Parekh is an associate at General Atlantic LLC, where he evaluates growth equity investments in the digital media, Internet, marketing and consumer sector, and works closely with the firm's portfolio companies. Previously, he worked at J.P. Morgan in the Investment Bank based in New York. At J.P. Morgan, he worked with clients on capital raising and mergers and acquisitions in the consumer and healthcare sectors. Jay has been active as a mentor with StreetWise Partners, an organization that seeks to empower low-income individuals to improve employment opportunities, secure jobs, and break the cycle of poverty. He has also volunteered with Big Brothers Big Sisters of New York City. Jay graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Cornell University, with a BA in economics with distinction.

Maheen Rahman is an associate at Lexington Partners–a New York based private equity firm. At Lexington, Maheen is primarily responsible for the analysis of equity co-investments. Prior to Lexington, she worked as an investment banking analyst at JPMorgan, in the Consumer, Healthcare and Retail group. Maheen received a BS from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business.

Rich Relyea is a Principal in the U.S. Growth Capital team at 3i. Previously, he was a principal at Halyard Capital, where he focused on middle-market leveraged buyouts and growth capital investments in the media, communications, and business services sectors. Prior to joining Halyard in January 2001, Richard was a Manager at Entrade, where he was responsible for investing in and actively managing a portfolio of technology and Internet infrastructure companies. Previous to that, he was an analyst at Security Capital's Preferred Growth private equity fund, where he invested in REITs and real estate operating companies. Richard is President of the New York Private Equity Network and an advisor for the global nonprofit National Foundation for Teaching Entrepreneurship. Richard received a BA in economics from Williams College.

Tarrus L. Richardson is the co-founder and managing director of ICV Capital Partners. Prior to ICV, Tarrus was an investment professional at Joseph Littlejohn & Levy, Inc. Prior to JLL, Tarrus was a co-founder of Gold Coast Securities, an investment bank in Ghana, and was in the mergers and acquisitions group at Salomon Smith Barney. He holds a BS degree in accounting from Purdue University and an MBA from Harvard Business School.

Daleep Singh joined Element Capital as a partner and member of the Management Committee in March of 2007. He is responsible for investor relations, business development, and macro research/strategy as it relates to structural trade themes. Prior to joining Element Capital, Daleep was a Vice President at Goldman Sachs in the U.S. Fixed Income Department. He specialized in derivatives coverage for some the firm's largest hedge fund clients and asset managers. Prior to Goldman Sachs, he worked as a management consultant and advised senior executives at Fortune 100 companies and technology startups on issues of strategy, marketing, and operations. Daleep graduated with an MBA from MIT, an MPA (macroeconomics) from Harvard, and a BA (magna cum laude) in economics and public policy from Duke University.

Vikas Sood joined Google's New York office as a Marketing Manager. Previously, he was a Business Analyst with McKinsey & Company before joining the Transportation Security Administration. As one of the agency's original members, Vikas helped build the national airport security checkpoint program. He holds an BA from Carnegie Mellon and an MBA from The Wharton School. Vikas is originally from Newtown, PA and is eagerly awaiting a Philadelphia sports championship.

Raja Surapaneni is an associate in the private equity group of TPG Capital, where he focuses on investment opportunities in a variety of sectors. Previously, he worked at Metalmark Capital (formerly Morgan Stanley Capital Partners) as a private equity analyst in New York. Raja holds a BS in computer science and electrical engineering and a BS in management science from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Raja grew up in Andover, MA and is currently based in San Francisco.

Rachel Tronstein is the Clinton Global Initiative (CGI) commitments manager. She joined CGI in August 2007 to help out the commitments team with their on-site logistics at the annual meeting. Before coming to CGI, Rachel was with The Princeton Review, managing a pilot periodic assessment program in 300 New York City public schools. These schools receive greater flexibility and control in exchange for improved student performance. This program has since been expanded throughout all NYC schools. Before her time at The Princeton Review, Rachel worked at the Social Science Research Council (SSRC). At the SSRC, Rachel did research on the transformation in the financing of higher education worldwide (funded by the Ford Foundation), and on promising models in interdisciplinary graduate education (funded by the National Science Foundation and Teagle Foundation). Rachel moved to New York in 2004 right after a short stint with the Kerry campaign in Columbus. Rachel has an MSc from the London School of Economics, where she studied international political economy. Rachel spent six months studying and teaching at Beijing University before she moved to London. Rachel is also a very proud Michigan Wolverine, and was the University of Michigan student body president. Rachel loves hiking and skiing, and is looking to finally compete in a triathlon this summer.

Alisa Valderrama works on the Finance team with the Clinton Climate Initiative. Alisa earned a B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania, and holds a law degree from the University of Southern California and a Masters in International Law from the London School of Economics. Prior to law school, Alisa spent two years at the World Bank based in Washington and during law school worked on the United Nations' Independent Inquiry Committee. Alisa is from San Diego, CA.

Robbert Vorhoff is a Vice President at General Atlantic, a global growth equity firm, where he focuses on investments in the Healthcare sector. He joined General Atlantic as an Associate in 2003 and works in the Greenwich and New York offices. Previously, Robbert worked for Greenhill & Co. in New York as an Analyst in the Mergers & Acquisitions and Restructuring advisory groups, and then as an Associate in the firm's private equity group, Greenhill Capital Partners, where he focused on investments in financial services, energy and for-profit education. Robbert received a B.S. in Commerce with a concentration in Finance from the McIntire School of Commerce at the University of Virginia. While at UVA, he was awarded the William M. Shermet Scholarship by the McIntire faculty on the basis of academic performance, character and leadership. Robbert remains actively involved with the University of Virginia as the Co-Chair of the McIntire Young Alumni Council. He is also involved with a number of non-profit organizations in the New York community, including Student Sponsor Partners and Echoing Green.

David Waldman is an Associate with Ska Capital, a Republic of Georgia based private equity firm, where he focuses on opportunities within the Caucasus region. As a one of the founding associates at Ska Capital he has played an active role in the overall firm development. Prior to Ska Capital, he worked as an Analyst with Catalyst Associates, a Connecticut based hedge fund, focusing his research on emerging and disruptive technologies. He also serves as a Director and Founder of Pheasant's Tears, a boutique winery focused on preserving the historic tradition of viticulture in the Republic of Georgia. David received a BA with Honors in World Politics and Economics from Hamilton College in Clinton, NY. In addition, spent time training at the Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth and as a visiting student studying in the Politics, Philosophy and Economics program at Oxford University.

Brandon Warshaw is a third-year JD candidate at Case Western Reserve School of Law. He recently served as a Research Fellow with a public policy firm in Washington, DC. At Case Western Reserve, he has served as Chief Justice of the Honor Court, President of a legal professional organization, and a research assistant and teaching assistant. Prior to attending Case Western Reserve, he worked at The White House and a law firm in Washington, DC. Warshaw also has experience doing casework in the district office of (former) Congressman Rob Portman. He received a BA in Political Economy from Tulane University in New Orleans, LA. He was born in North Miami Beach, raised in Cincinnati, and currently lives in Cleveland with his wife and fish.

Eric Wilmes currently works at Friedman Fleischer Lowe, and was the former director of Centre Partners. Prior, he worked at Morgan Stanley, where he was in the merchant banking division. He has experience serving on the Boards of American Seafoods, International Imaging Materials, Uno Chicago Grill, and Centre Pacific Management. Eric graduated from Williams College with a BA in economics, and was a teaching assistant at the graduate program at Williams Center for development economics. Eric has traveled extensively, including crossing the Atlantic by freighter and Siberia by train.